HOW THE BOARD GOT IT

Council Warm Up Over Sanitary Bills.

STORY OF SOME DIFFERENCES

A Batch of Bills From the Board Met With Opposition in Council and Some of the Members Seized the Occasion to Utter Cutting and Sarcasmic Words—The Street Railway Comes in For an Awful Scolding, and an Important Motion Passed Unanimously.

As President Berg was too ill to attend the meeting of council last evening, and Vice President Williams was not present when the time for work began, Councilman Swindells took the chair.

The first business of what proved a long and turbulent session was the passage of a resolution compelling people who desire to lay water pipes on unpaved streets to consult the city engineer, and secure from him a permit. Then came the widening of the Huston road, and the presence of Attorney Brookes and Colonel Hill in the lobby showed that a battle royal was in prospect, but it came without those gentlemen contributing to the enjoyment of the occasion. A suggestion that council go into a committee of the whole met with opposition, Owen saying that he did not see the necessity for the move when council had visited the scene, and were competent to act on what they had seen. Swindells wanted to hear the attorneys plead, believing that council could not hear too much evidence in the case.

Owen said that the petitioners should be willing to bear a part of the expense, and if they did not, he was opposed to the opening. Marshall discussed the visit, and could not see where any advice was needed, but the members could decide because they had seen. If they ruled, they would have the equity of both factions, and he was strongly against a committee of the whole. Burton and Swindells were the only members who voted to hear the attorneys. Williams and Burton voted to condemn the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles property for a road, but all the others opposed it, and the ordinance was lost. The bill to condemn the south side of the street was also lost, all members being opposed to it, while Marshall declared that the street should be paved without any widening.

Before the pay ordinance was read the bills of the board of health appeared, and caused the fun of the evening. Otto Smidtbauer wanted $69.50, a part of which was for cleaning and filling the vault at the National House, and Solicitor Clark wanted it paid because the law provided for it. He believed the board had good business judgment. Owen did not believe council had to pay the bill, and Williams departed from the usual custom by taking up another claim in the batch which lay so innocently on Clerk Hanley's desk. It was from Henry Chambers, a member of the board, and was for groceries to the amount of $24 provided the Wetzel family when they were in quarantine. Another from Mrs. Whitney for $2 to pay for milk provided the same family proved that the claimant was closely related to the Wetzels. Marshall seized the opportunity, and told what he knew of the matter by pointing out various defects in Wetzel's life and characterizing the bill as exorbitant. He asked council to lay it over until he had investigated it completely as the board had a bad habit of taking such men in tow. If there was a law which compelled the board to clean out a vault and then have it filled up without making a sewer connection it was a great fake. Before the board took up the National House there were 11 boarders there; now the closest scrutiny could not show one. Board or no board he believed some things should be governed by common sense. Clark here reiterated the statement that there was no use to talk about the matter, the bills must be paid, and in support of his position he read the law. Owen believed the board had neglected proper precaution in this case, and they had no right to put such bills on the head of council without the latter having something to say about it. It was an injustice, he believed, to pay it. Marshall continued the discussion by speaking of the magnanimity of the board, and council smiled a broad smile. He said their system of fumigation was worthless, and would not kill flies. Furthermore if any one had reported a case of fever at the National House it was an "outrageous outrage." In spite of the assertion from the solicitor that council assumed no responsibility in the matter, Marshall wanted him to provide against it.

A motion to have the bills returned for correction brought out another discussion, Clark saying that the people had engaged counsel and would sue today if they were not paid. Kent wanted to pay, but Williams overlooked the suggestion to object to that Chambers account, while Marshall characterized it as an outrage. Owen brought up the National House again, asking if the health officer could legally create a nuisance, as well as abate one. Marshall wanted to know if there was not some way to govern the health officer, while Clark remained firm in his position supporting the board. After Owen had wondered how the health officer would like to pay the bill the motion carried, Kent and Horwell being opposed. Clark again asserted that the city would be sued, but council did not seem at all disturbed. Arthur Cooper had a little bill because of that stable incident on Sheridan avenue, but the solicitor said to give it no attention, and it got none.

A bill of $25 for the new oats cleaner at the central fire station brought forward another lot of indignation, this time in the main from Williams. He said that he had seen a letter making the price $15, and he sarcastically referred to Chief Adam. He believed it was funny that council was asked to pay $25 for a $15 device, and suggested the reappointment of the chief. Owen said he had seen a circular in which the price was $15, whereupon Williams declared that the chief had asserted the price as $25, and wanted him to be a man. Owen poured a little oil on the turbulent sea of Williams' indignation by believing that there was some mistake, and failing to see where the chief got anything out of the deal. Hereupon Swindells placed himself on record by the assertion that the cleaner was on 30 days' trial, and they had been given that much more by the company. Owen failed to understand why the city should pay $10 more than the market price, and a motion was passed on that line.

After paying the Rinehart bill for hauling dirt the Billingsley case was discussed, and as a result Solicitor Clark will confer with Mr. Taylor. A motion by Owen providing for an ordinance for the paving of Huston road from Walnut to Avondale street was passed. The ordinance relating to the payment of Third street and Sheridan avenue assessments was placed on first reading.

The mayor reported that he had collected $108.30 during the month, and Commissioner Welsh showed where his force had done much work. The water works showed a balance of $7,867.29, and Treasurer Griggs had an elaborate production relating to city finances.

When Marshall had presented the deed for the East End road, he jumped with all his power on the street railway, boldly proclaiming that the company failed to act the man. He wanted a railing on the bank near the power house and this alone would save a damage suit. Milkman Andrews had a horse which had been injured by going over the bank. If the fence was not built he would sue at once. He remembered that a committee had been appointed to confer with the officials of the road, but Mr. Davies, with whom they talked, had no more power than a jumping jack, and he was weary of that sort of thing. He moved that the most stringent measures, even to taking away of the franchise, be adopted, and the company be compelled to observe the law in every instance. Another lengthy discussion followed but the motion passed, together with another ordering Commissioner Welsh to build the fence at once. Owen brought up the question of an arc light near Mrs. Coulson's place on Franklin avenue, and it was decided that fully 15 places in town needed the same improvement. After some more talk council adjourned at 11:30 o'clock, tired and weary after its long session.

Joseph Bennett, of this city, and James Mallott, of Acheyville, are arranging to build a tilt works at the latter place. The ground was donated by a resident of that place who visited the Burgess plant today and inspected its workings. The projectors expect to have the news works in operation shortly after the holidays.

Two Lovely Black Eyes.
Jack McGinnis notified the police yesterday that he had been assaulted on Saturday night by Ed Schneider, the proprietor of a billiard room, and if a pair of beautiful black eyes were testimony, Jack looked like it. A warrant was issued and this afternoon set for a hearing.

McKINNON CONFESSED

He Took Part In One Burglary.

AND SO DID THE OTHERS

Sequel to the Arrests—Three Stronger Who Filled Jugs and Themselves With Whisky, Were Arrested and Fined—Resisted an Officer.

The authorities have the confessions of the captured burglars to add in sending the gang to the penitentiary.

McKinnon was arraigned at a late hour yesterday afternoon and acknowledged that he was implicated in the robbery at Hague & Webb's saloon. He would not confess to any other scrapes, but the mayor seemed satisfied that he had enough evidence to hold him for the action of the grand jury in the sum of $1,000. The others had already stated they knew something of the happenings, and their case will doubtless end in one way. Chief Gill has discovered that the tool used as a jimmy was the property of James Douglas, and that it fit every mark in places where burglaries had been committed, with the exception of Frazer's coal office. McKinnon claimed that the seven plugs of tobacco found at his home were given him by a man he met on the street, but the authorities are not inclined to believe that men are wandering around town making people presents of plug tobacco.

W. H. Cox, Howard Lewis and Andra Martin were the names given by three men arrested on the wharf last evening by Officers Badgley and Welsh. They were very drunk, and were having a good time when the police swooped down upon them. They had two jugs of whiskey but dropped one in the river rather than see it fall into the hands of the authorities. A revolver was found on Lewis when he was searched. The names given by the men are fictitious, as one is known to reside across the river and another is a printer from Lisbon. Each paid Mayor Gilbert $7.75 when he asked for money, the wife of Cox coming from Wellsville to settle his account.

George Herwig, the man who was arrested for resisting Officer Supplee at the risk the other evening, was fined $10.00 last evening, and paid it under protest, making a great fuss because the charge was laid against him.

Eleven people who had transgressed the law were guests of the city in jail last night.

Two Deaths.
John E. Speaight, an old soldier, who formerly resided in East End, died Monday at the Soldiers' home, Sandusky, after suffering many months with wounds received in the late war. Deceased would have been 57 years of age had he lived until today. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Mary Speaight, and six children, Charles, David, Misses Nell, Lizzie and Annie, and Mrs. John Davidson, all of East End. He was a half-brother of David Colclough and Mrs. George McKinnon, and Mr. Colclough went to Sandusky yesterday to arrange for the funeral.

Mrs. H. W. Bough, a well-known and respected resident of Lisbon, died yesterday after a brief illness at the age of 76 years. Deceased was the mother of Mark Bough and grand-mother of Mrs. W. T. Norris, of this city. Charles Bough was also a relative. Mr. Bough and Mrs. Norris will attend the funeral tomorrow.

News From Lenz.
After many days of anxious waiting, J. J. Purinton has again received word from Frank Lenz, this time more encouraging than at any time since the disappearance of the young wheelman. Doctor Venneman cabled from Tabriz, the message being received yesterday afternoon, that Lenz was known to have passed Zashenchir, and that the inquirer should cable to Elzroum. Mr. Purinton at once sent word to the consul at that place to continue his investigation in the district in which Lenz was last seen.

Suits Against Abrams.
Thomas Abrams, who conducts a saloon in the Midway, was made defendant in a suit for $25.50 filed by the light company today. It will be heard by Squire Travis who will also listen to such testimony as can be brought forward to show that Ferd Oschman has a legal claim of $147.60 against the same defendant.

After a Subscription.
Doctor C. B. Ogden, as treasurer of the board of trade, brought suit against John Whan in the court of Squire Rose today. Whan was among the East End people who subscribed to the fund raised for the new pottery, but now refuses to pay the subscription. The amount is $25, and the case will be heard by the squire next Saturday morning. It is said that there are a number of other persons in the same boat as Whan.

Found a Lot of Clay.

A special from Beaver Falls says that Samuel Veon, a well known potter of this place, has been experimenting for some time with clay which he found at Wallace Run. He has discovered that the clay will make good ware, and claims that it is better than any clay now on the market. He is so pleased with his discovery that he is organizing a company for the manufacture of pottery. There is an inexhaustible supply of clay in the bed.

Being Tried Today.
The case of the Humane society versus John Allison for abusing and starving his horse until it died was called for trial at city hall at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Nine witnesses from Gardendale John, Frank and James Clunk, Jr., James Clunk Sr., Thomas Powell, Harry Foster, William Smith, Charles Headley, Frank Byers were called. Squire Travis and a jury are hearing the case.

Bunched the Cars.

Street car No. 19, in charge of Simon Badgley, refused to work while crossing the railroad at Second street yesterday afternoon, and was backed on the switch, where an examination was made. From all accounts a slight obstruction to the coogs was the only cause of trouble, but it was not until six cars were bunched on the switch that it was found by the other motormen.

Macabre H. Again.
Ira Marlatt, the Columbian desperado who is spending the remainder of his days in the penitentiary, became violent again yesterday, and did his best to kill three men. He had secured a case knife, which, after it had been made sharp as a razor, was used in the attack. After cutting a guard and a prisoner he threw a brick at another guard, but was finally beaten into submission.

A Social.
The ladies of the Women's Christian Temperance union will hold a pound social at the girls' home on Tuesday, Dec. 18, for the benefit of the home. All persons interested in the work are cordially invited. Anything that can be used in the home will be thankfully received. Bread and butter, and tea and coffee will be served from 10 in the morning until 10 at night.

The Lecture Last Night.
The Grand was comfortably filled last night when Mr. Knight delivered his lecture on the Andrews raid. The daring exploit was well told by the veteran, although there was no embellishment of fine phrases and carefully prepared metaphors. It was greatly enjoyed by the Grand Army boys who were present.

Not in Business for Fun.
Julia Gamble and Maude Banger, who have cases in the court of Squire Travis for the purpose of collecting board bills, filed three new suits today. They say that James Jackson owes $16, John McBane $32 and Tim Williams $14.50. They will all be heard on the morning of Dec. 17.

Securing Witnesses.
Chief Gill received a list of 17 names to be used as witnesses for the state in the Rose case tomorrow, and was out in the wet notifying them that they were wanted in Lisbon. There seems little doubt that the case will be called tomorrow afternoon.

Will Be There.
Charles Rose, the defendant in the case which comes up in Lisbon tomorrow, has been ill for some time, but will be on hand at the trial. Squire Rose stated today that he thought his son would be able to go out on the train.

Entertained Friends.
A pleasant reception was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Peterson, Railroad street, last night, at which 17 young people were present. The evening was one of rare pleasure amid music, games and dancing.

George Morley is Worse.
Ex-Mayor Morley is not so well today although he is believed to be improving a little. The gentleman feels well at times, and then is compelled to suffer a relapse of a day or two.

HE DIED LAST NIGHT

Joseph Schaffer's Skull Was Fractured.

BODY BROUGHT HERE TODAY

He Was Struck on the Head by a Limb as the Tree He Was Chopping Fell—An Old Resident of East Liverpool—The Family.

The body of Joseph Schaffer was brought to this city at noon today life having left it with the dying of light yesterday.

Last night the NEWS REVIEW briefly stated that the deceased had been injured while at work on a farm near Calcutta, and it was feared that he could not survive. The accident was caused when he was cutting down a small tree on which was a sharp and dangerous limb. As the tree fell Schaffer ran away, but the limb struck him on the head fracturing his skull, and causing death several hours later. Immediately after the accident he was taken to the house of Willis Wright on the next farm and about a half a mile from Calcutta. Doctors Bailey and Leamon did all in their power to save his life, but they knew from the first that the injury would prove fatal.

Mrs. Harvey Thompson, Lincoln avenue, is a daughter of the deceased, and with her he made his home, going occasionally to the farm. Howard Schaffer, Fourth street, is a son, and Miss Tillie Schaffer and Mrs. Milo Kirkendall, of Basil avenue, are daughters, as is Mrs. James Weeks, of Elmira, N. Y. A brother, Robert Schaffer, lives in the West. Joseph Schaffer was born in Washington county, Pa., 65 years ago, and has been a resident of East Liverpool for 32 years. He was a carpenter by trade, an honest upright man and a prominent member of the First United Presbyterian church. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

Trains Delayed.
When the pony was switching in the lower part of the city last night a car met with an accident which delayed trains for several hours. A piece of coal had lodged between the point of the switch and the rail at Paul's mill, and when the car was pushed in on the siding, a part of it went on one truck, and the other part insisted on staying on the main line. As a result the car stood on its end, and the oats with which it was loaded were scattered over the road. The only damage was the loss of $15 in oats, and the long delay occasioned by holding the trains as neither of the evening trains could pass until the wreck train had completed its work.

Twelve Good Men.
Mr. Burt, deputy great commander for Ohio, called on a number of persons yesterday afternoon and took the applications of 12, amounting to $30, 000 in insurance in the Knights of the Maccabees. Among these is numbered some of the best and shrewdest men in the city. He will remain in the city until it is thoroughly worked.

Coming to the City.
Mrs. M. Thomas shipped her household goods from Hulton, Pa., to this city yesterday.

James Duke has moved from Hammondsville to this city, his goods arriving at the local freight depot today.

Moved to Matamoras.
John Huffman, for some years a resident of this city, shipped his household goods to Matamoras on the steamer Bedford Monday night where the family will reside. This is the first moving which has left the city for two weeks but the list of newcomers is increasing daily.

Superintendent Southworth Here.
Superintendent Southworth, the efficient commander of the Fairmount home, was here today on business. The gentleman is genial and pleasant, and keeps the institution in excellent order. Even at this season there is no sickness.

Black Patti.
Judging from the advance sale of seats at the Grand, Black Patti will fill the house next Friday evening. She is accompanied by an excellent company, and promises the best performance of the season.

PERSONAL MENTION.
—E. M. Cresser was in Pittsburg today on business.
—Enoch Elden was a Pittsburg business visitor today.
—J. W. Gem went to Wheeling on business yesterday afternoon.
—Rev. Jason Manley returned this morning to his home in Clarington.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, DEC. 12.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF OHIO.

HOW LIVERPOOL LOSES.

Perhaps the greatest loss which East Liverpool is called upon to sus-tain year after year is the loss occasioned by the pernicious practice of patronizing Pittsburgh business houses
when the desired articles can be bought at home.

This custom has reached such proportions as to cause comment among merchants of the city, and cause them to wonder why the public will talk of protection to home, and in almost the same moment take a train for the city, leaving money there which will never do this place any more good than if it had been sunk in the bottom of the sea. When the shopping tour was the only method for drawing trade from East Liverpool the effect was not so severely felt as at present, when the Pittsburgh men, realizing the profit to be derived from trade in this part of the country, send their agents to this place. When the ladies went to Pittsburgh to shop it was the dry goods dealer who suffered.
Now that Pittsburgh has come to East Liverpool it is the grocer who loses in trade. Agents come regularly to the city armed with samples and a price list. Their little story is to show how cheap they can sell, since they represent the wholesale houses, and what a great saving it will be for the customer, as all orders taken on one trip will be shipped in a car, thus cutting down the freight to a minimum.
Many people have listened to the voice of these sharp chaps from town, and in hope of economizing have actually spent more money than if they had made every purchase in their own town. Thus they not only part with an unnecessary amount of money, but they lose that feeling always attending the knowledge that they are helping their neighbor. Comparison with prices asked by Pittsburgh agents show that they receive more for their goods than grocery houses advertising in the NEWS REVIEW, and to this must be added not only the cost of freight but what expense
is incurred in having the shipment transferred from the freight depot to the home of the customer.

The amount of money taken out of the city each year can not well be estimated, although it can not be anything but much larger than the casual observer would imagine. Not long ago two agents came to the city, and called at a number of houses. In a few days a car containing about $600
in groceries was received at the freight depot. If they were as successful each time they visited the city
it would mean that Pittsburgh was selling in the neighborhood of $25,000 to the consumers of groceries in this place, a direct loss of that amount of trade to the grocers of East Liverpool.

The practice of buying outside your own town is as unprofitable as it is unwarranted. It is as useless as it is unprofitable. In the majority of instances the purchaser is compelled to pay more than he would if he did his buying at home. While he may get one article cheaper he will pay more for another, thus leaving the profit upon the side of the dealer every time. To earn money in Liverpool and spend it in Pittsburgh is to deplete this place of that life giving material without which no business man can prosper any more than the human being can attain growth without nourishment. As the relation of every man in a community is in a measure close to every other man the taking of money from circulation here, means an indirect loss to everyone. Buy at home.

THE TARIFF BOBS UP.

The Caucus Decision to Shelve
Supplemental Bills

WILL PROBABLY BE IGNORED

Senators Vest and Berry Engineering the Movement—Opponents Not Scared—The Sugar Bill to Be Used to Supplement the Nicaragua Canal Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—There is a well-defined movement on the Democratic side of the senate to get up the supplemental tariff bills notwithstanding the decision of the caucus of last week to give the preference to other measures and virtually to shelve the tariff bills.

Senators Vest and Berry are engineering this movement, and there were strong indications in the senate that they considered themselves strong enough to move. Absentees were sentor, and the senators interested were evidently on the qui vive. The fact however, that Senator Morrill had given notice of a speech cut them off and the Nicaragua canal bill being taken up unfettered business, caused them to further postpone their efforts. The opponents of the bills express the opinion that it will be impossible to get the bills up.

It is understood that the sugar bill would have been given the preference if the tariff bills had obtained an opening.
It is now considered probable that there will be an effort to displace the Nicaragua bill with the sugar bill. This effort might have been previously made except for courtesy to Senator Dingle, who had given notice of a speech on the canal bill.

CARLISLE'S FINANCIAL BILL.

He Submits It to the Committee on Banking and Currency.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Secretary Carlisle has submitted his financial bill to the committee on banking and currency.
It has also been introduced in the house.
It first provides that all acts and parts of acts which require or authorize the deposit of United States bonds to secure circulating notes issued by national banking associations be repealed and such notes hereafter prepared shall not contain the statement that they are so secured.

National banks may take out circulating notes to an amount not exceeding 75 per cent of its paid up and unimpaired capital upon depositing with the treasurer of the United States United States legal tender notes as a guarantee fund equal to 30 per cent of the circulating notes applied for, and shall be entitled to receive from the comptroller of the currency circulating notes declared to be a first lien upon all the assets of the association issuing the same, such notes to be redeemable in gold, if desired.

Each national bank shall pay to the treasurer of the United States in the month of January and July each year,
a duty of one-fourth of 1 per cent for each half year, upon the average amount of its notes in circulation, for a safety
fund for redemption of circulating notes.
Free tax shall continue until the said fund amounts to a sum equal to 6 per centum upon the local amount of national bank notes outstanding, and thereafter said tax shall cease.

Each national bank shall redeem its notes at par in lawful money of the United States. Any notes to be retired shall be forwarded to the comptroller of
the currency for cancellation, and there-
upon 30 per cent of the amount of such cancelled notes shall be returned to the bank.

When a national banking association
becomes insolvent, its guarantee fund held on deposit shall be transferred to the safety fund herein provided for and applied to the redemption of its outstanding notes, and in case the last mentioned fund should at any time be impaired by the redemptions of the notes of failed national banks and the immediately available assets of said banks are not sufficient to reimburse it, said fund shall be at once restored by pro rata assessments upon all the other associations according to the amount of their notes at par in lawful money of the United States. Any notes to be retired
shall be forwarded to the comptroller of
the currency for cancellation, and there-
upon 30 per cent of the amount of such
cancelled notes shall be returned to the
bank.

from time to time, invest any money belonging to the safety fund in United States bonds having the longest time to run, and the bonds so purchased and the interest accruing thereon shall be held as part of said fund. Such bonds may be sold when necessary and the proceeds used for the redemption of the circulating notes of failed national banks.

The secretary of the treasury, in his discretion, may use from time to time any surplus revenue of the United States in the redemption and retirement of United States legal tender notes, but the amount of such notes retired shall not in the aggregate exceed an amount equal to 70 per cent of the additional circulation taken out by national banks and state banks under the provisions of this act; and hereafter no United States notes or treasury notes authorized by the act of July 14, 1890, of a less denomination than $10 shall be issued, and as rapidly as such notes of denominations less than $10 shall be received into the treasury they shall be cancelled and an equal amount of notes of like character, but in denominations of $10, or multiple thereof, shall be issued in their places, but nothing in this act shall be so construed as to repeal, or in any manner affect, the second section of the said act of July 14, 1890.

The use of circulating notes issued by a banking corporation, only organized under the laws of any state, and which transacts no other than a banking business, shall be exempt from taxation
under the laws of the United States.

Certain regulations are provided for national banks. Laws conflicting in different ways with the provisions of the bill are repealed.

The hearing before the house banking and currency committee was resumed
in the room of the ways and means committee. Among those present were Mr.
Horace White of the New York Evening
Post, Mr. G. C. Homer of Baltimore chairman of the committee on national banks, to formulate the so-called Baltimore plan, and Mr. A. B. Hepburn of New York, ex-comptroller of the currency. These three gentlemen represent the currency ideas embodied in the Baltimore plan, and they were present for the purpose of urging the merits of that plan.

THE ARMENIAN BUTCHERIES.

President Cleveland Explains Our Attitude on the Affair.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The letter to the president, giving the action of the government in the Armenian affair to the senate, contains about the same information as the letter he transmits from Secretary Gresham. The first information from Minister Terrell was that reports of the outrages were much exaggerated, and that the Turks had merely suppressed an armed rebellion.

A second cablegram from the United States minister states that later developments showed fearful atrocities nevertheless, there was no evidence that naturalized Americans or others claiming American protection had suffered. Turkey asked the United States for a commissioner to investigate the affair, but as our government was not a party to the Berlin treaty, in which Turkey promised protection to Armenia as a tributary state, we had no right to interfere. Then Great Britain asked the United States to appoint a commissioner, which request was granted, as Great Britain was a party to the Berlin treaty.
Consul Jewett, at Sivas, was named and is probably now at work. He was ordered to make an independent report to this government.

The Pooling Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The struggle
over the bill to authorize railroad pooling was terminated by the passage of the bill by the decisive vote of 166 to 110. The Cooper substitute, which placed the entire control of the conditions of pooling in the hands of the interstate commerce commission and gave the absolute power in the matter of revoking pooling orders was defeated, as were all subsequent efforts to amend and recommit it, and the bill passed as reported from the committee. Several attempts were made to defeat the bill by filibustering, but they, too, were unsuccessful.

Dolph and Morrill Speak.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The consideration of the Nicaragua canal bill was continued in the senate, Senator Dolph making a long speech in favor of the bill, in the course of which he advocated the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. The venerable senator from Vermont, Mr. Morrill, made some remarks in which he criticised the Senator's position, and reported adversely from the finance committee. The day closed with an executive session, in which a large number of nominations were confirmed.

PARKHURST IS MODEST.

He Wants no Testimonial For Doing His Duty.

APPRECIATION ENOUGH FOR HIM.

He Expresses His Gratification and Asks That Headquarters Be Established For
the Vigilance League—An Appeal Issued For Aid.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—A message was sent to the Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst by a number of prominent reformers, requesting information from him as to the most acceptable form of a testimonial which they desired to offer as a token of their appreciation of his vigorous three-years' crusade against municipal corruption.

In reply, Dr. Parkhurst sent a letter expressing his gratification, but said that the memorial was in itself sufficient.
In the course of his letter he offers these suggestions: The City Vigilance league
needs a local habitation sufficiently central, to be of easy access from all quarters of town and sufficiently commodious to meet the growing requirements of its multiplying membership and enlarging interests.

An appeal has been accordingly issued for aid in the maintenance of the City Vigilance league pursuant to Dr. Parkhurst's suggestions.

A Will Contest Started.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12.—A will has been begun to set aside the will of James O'Carroll, who made a fortune of $250,000 in the laundry business here, and who left the bulk of his estate to Bishop Riordan and various charitable institutions. Eighty-six thousand dollars he willed to numerous relatives in Ireland, though $5,000 was the greatest sum bequeathed to any one of them.
Joseph O'Carroll of Dublin, brother of the deceased, is the contestant.

Tillman Elected United States Senator.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 12.—B. R. Tillman has been elected United States senator, receiving 131 out of 155 votes cast.
H. C. Butler received 21 votes. Three negro members of the house voted, two for George Murray and one for W. D.
Crum. The vote stood in the senate 29
for Tillman, 6 for Butler. In the house 102 for Tillman, 15 for Butler.

Three desperadoes lynched.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 12.—Three of the notorious Meachamites in Clarke county have been sent to eternity by the rope and limb route. The Meachamite gang has for many years run illicit distilleries, made counterfeit money and committed robbery and murder.

Horrible Crimes of an Insane Man.

RODGWAY, Mo., Dec. 12.—Five miles southwest of this city, David G. Spragg, in a fit of insanity, murdered his wife and two children and mortally wounded
his two step children with a butcher knife, then took his own life with a rifle.

Georgia Makes an Appropriation.

ATLANTA, Dec. 12.—The senate has passed the house bill appropriating $27,500, for the purpose of making a Georgia exhibit at the Cotton States
and International exposition next year.

BUCKETSFUL OF COIN.

A Gang of Counterfeiters Unearthed in Oklahoma.

REGULAR MINT IN A CAVE.

The Men Cornered in Their Cavern—Four of the Leaders Captured—Tubful and Bucketful of Counterfeit Money Found by the Officers.

GETTYSBURG, O. T., Dec. 12.—A squad of deputy United States marshals have just unearthed a powerful and dangerous gang of counterfeiters, who have been operating in conjunction with confederates in Indiana, Missouri and other states. A chance word uttered by a member of the gang while intoxicated, led to a raid and the subsequent lodging in the United States jail of the following leaders of the gang: Guy Harper, Crawford, Joseph Tillery, Jess Lickett and Sam Lickett.

After shadowing these men three months, the outlaws were nabbed and unwillingly led their captors to an underground cavern a few miles east of Perkins, used by the counterfeiters as a mint and general rendezvous. After locating the underground mint, the deputies organized and armed themselves to the teeth, and at 2 o'clock in the morning descended into the cavern. After traversing a subterranean passage for 100 yards they burst in a door and covered 25 men with Winchester.

The counterfeiters had been trapped so adroitly and were so taken by surprise they failed to show fight and scattered through the hidden exits. Every man escaped. But it afterwards developed that the prisoners were the leaders of the gang, and that the others were only coppers whose work it was to flag the spurious coin.

The officers gathered in three buckets full of counterfeit dollars, perfectly made, and two tubful of dimes, quarters and nickels, beside a costly assortment of moulds and other paraphernalia.

The men had been operating in the cave nearly eight months and much of the spurious coin was boxed and expressed to agents in western states. All the prisoners are educated and well-dressed. Tillery was at one time an employe in the mint at Philadelphia. The Lickett brothers resided in Perkins, where they were considered exemplary young men. The prisoners so far are reticent and refuse to answer questions.

STREET CAR COLLISION.

A Number of Persons Injured in a Chicago Tunnel.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—In a collision between cable cars in the Washington street tunnel one man was fatally hurt. A score of others were seriously injured and a score of others more or less bruised. The cars were set on fire by the stoves, and for a time there was a fearful panic around the wreck. Those most seriously injured are: John Smith, internally injured and both legs broken, will die; George Newman, head and face badly cut; William Joyce, right leg broken and severe bruises; James McDaniel, left side of face crushed and head cut; John Freus, leg twisted, had bruises about hips, nose broken; James McGinty, seriously bruised about face and shoulders; Mrs. Thomas Bennett, seriously bruised, head and face cut; Mrs. George Reiss, head hurt and temporarily dazed by the shock; Mrs. Parker, both ankles broken and severe bruises; John Donohue, right leg broken, head and face cut; William Muloney, teeth knocked out and jaw broken; G. P. Burt, head cut and face crushed; A. Aiken, nose crushed and bruised; Mrs. Estella Vienn, injured about shoulders and hips; Harry Doddard, face cut, head cut and legs hurt; T. H. Moran, gripman on Milwaukee avenue grip car, badly bruised and injured internally.

Nellie Scott, head cut and badly bruised; G. B. Darton, face fearfully lacerated and teeth knocked out; A. Aiken, head cut very badly; Miss Olga Schroeder, fingers smashed; John N. Peterson, left arm broken; John Smith, face lacerated and nose smashed; Ed. Nelson, kneecap torn off and badly bruised.

FEDERATION CONVENTION.

Delegates Take an Excursion—Color Question Coming Up.

DENVER, Dec. 12.—The delegates to the Federation labor convention returned last night from an excursion around the "loop." This morning at 9 o'clock they again assembled for business.

A resolution will be presented in behalf of the colored men of America. This resolution makes a number of arguments and closes with the statement that the negro problem lies in the solution of the labor question. It urges that unless some method is found that will furnish work for all workingmen of race, the future of the workman is doomed.

Tomorrow afternoon the delegates will again lay their work aside and be given a trip about the city on the tramway line by the Chamber of Commerce.

James Fornalst the Bishop.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 12.—The State prints an interview with Rev. Sam P. Jones. Mr. Jones is making things lively in the Methodist church. He said: "The idea is that bishops should be elected for four years with eligibility to re-election if they behaved themselves. They will then kiss the babies and look after the fences. But when a fellow is elected for life he has got a cinch and you can't get at him. We claim the privilege of revising his mistakes and maladministrations, and that we have as much right to criticize him as any one else."

MRS. GERST HEARD FROM.

The Confession Judgment on Money in Cleveland and Toledo.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 12.—It has leaked out that Mrs. Matilda Gerst, the depositor of the Pennsylvania Land company's funds, has been in this city again and spent several hours in the office of Everett, Deffenbaugh & Weed, attorneys. A gentleman, who saw her, says she is a very lady-like little woman with sparkling dark eyes and a fine brunette complexion. She is now said to be beyond the Ohio river. The attorney having the case in charge refuse absolutely to talk upon the matter.

Judgment has been entered by confession in the suit in favor of S. M. G. Gates and against Mrs. Gerst, for $20,423.17. Of about $500,000 obtained from various lumber men by the his swindling system worked by the Pennsylvania Land and Lumber company, over $25,000 have been recovered from safe deposit vaults in Cleveland and Toledo, where it was placed by Mrs. Gerst under various fictitious names. It is asserted that the attorneys for the victims of the swindle know the hiding place of over $60,000 more, which they have attached. It is believed that Mrs. Gerst made a full confession of her part in the big swindle, and has been allowed to go free.

A Toledo special says: The money deposited in the vaults of a local bank in Toledo by Mrs. John Harris, alias Matilda Gerst, of Pittsburgh, one of the Pennsylvania Land and Lumber company swindlers, has been turned over by the sheriff to its rightful owners, the creditors of the defunct company. Mrs. Harris has confessed judgment both here and in Cleveland in the sum of $22,350.

Later developments reveal the fact that Mrs. Gerst made an affidavit at the request of the attorneys, admitting that she deposited in this city under the name of Jennie Emerson, $10,502, and in Toledo, under the name of Mrs. John J. Harris, $12,700, all of which belonged to victims of the lumber swindle. W. S. Delaney is said to have been with her.

A Plumbers' Convention.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 12.—Delegates to the number of 77, representing the manufacturing and jobbing plumbers from the territory, as far east as Pittsburgh and as far west as Kansas City, have been in session at the Hollenden. The body is known as the Central Supply company. In his address, President John F. Wolf of Chicago stated that the object of the meeting was to form a stronger tie of union and to secure harmony of action among the members of the organization. After the reading of the reports of the secretary and treasurer various subjects of interests to the trade was discussed.

A Long Drouth Broken.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 12.—The recent rains have broken the worst and longest drouth ever experienced in the Ohio valley. Not only was the river almost dry, but even the railroads had difficulty in getting water for their engines. They run regular water trains for months. At many places in Kentucky, southern Indiana and Ohio there were strong demand for water at good prices per barrel. Now that the hunting season has opened it is found that the quail were exterminated during the drouth by an epidemic of cholera. The hunters report that they find no coveys alive but many dead bodies.

Taylor Enters the Race.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 12.—It is semi-officially reported here that ex-Congressman J. D. Taylor of Cambridge has decided to enter the race for the Republican nomination for governor. The colonel has gone to Washington to consult with friends and business associates, and if their judgment approves he will, upon his return, officially announce his candidacy and begin a vigorous campaign. General Harris is also expected to formally enter the contest this week.

A Lake Schooner Missing.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 12.—A special from Sandusky, O., says that the schooner Mary Amelia, which left Port Huron on Nov. 127 for that port, has not been heard from and she is probably lost with her crew and cargo of lath. The boat should have reached Sandusky before this, and the first intimation that was received of her possible wreck came when the consignee received a dispatch asking if she had arrived. No information regarding the crew could be obtained from Sandusky.

Didn't Prove Malice.

ELYRIA, O., Dec. 12.—The trial of Matthew Waldecker for the murder of Joseph Schaffer, at French creek, this county, came to a sudden conclusion by Waldecker pleading guilty to manslaughter on advice of his attorney. According to the evidence, Waldecker kicked Schaffer to death, but no malice was proved. He was urged to the deed by Matthew Nicholas his employer. Waldecker was sure of being convicted of murder in the second degree.

Struck With a Brick.

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 12.—While Wesley Griffin was standing in his front door some one threw a brick, which struck him in the throat and five teeth down his throat and five others out, besides cutting a gash from his forehead down through his nose, lip and chin, which will disfigure him for life. There is no clue to the one who threw the brick.

A Pension Attorney Twice Indicted.

TOLEDO, Dec. 12.—The federal grand jury has reported two indictments against Morris Loenshal, a local pension attorney. In one, he is charged with procuring and making a false affidavit in connection with a pension claim, and in the other, which was brought here from Cleveland, charged him with presenting a false claim and for using a false affidavit in reference thereto.

Incorporated in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 12.—The following articles of incorporation have been filed in the office of the secretary of state: Sun Publishing company, Jackson, capital stock $4,000; German-American League, Columbus; Comas club, Columbus.

Can't Float the Loan.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—Messrs. Armstrong & Co., announces that owing to the Chinese government negotiating the issues of a 5 per cent loan they have given up the attempt to float a 4 1/2 per cent loan, and have never returned their contract to do so.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Bert Chambers, driver of the Adams express wagon, has been off duty several days owing to sickness.

Work on the new kiln at the Thompson pottery was started yesterday, and will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

The household goods of W. N. Fleming arrived here yesterday from Steubenville. Mrs. R. M. Irwin moved here from Saltville at the same time.

When the burglars were around the other evening they did their best to get into Badgley's Market street store and Popcorn Jim's place on Broadway.

The reception tendered the Columbian club and their lady friends by the Phoenix club last evening was a delightful event, a large number of young society people being in attendance.

Jack McGinnis met with a bad accident Monday night while crossing the trestle on the Horn switch, near the ice plant. He made a misstep and fell over the edge, alighting on his face, and sustaining several bad cuts and bruises.

Mail Carrier Nelson Cornell was assisting baggage Master Smith with a trunk at the local depot yesterday afternoon when his hand was caught and badly injured. One finger was broken and several others crushed. He will be unable to work for several days.

Mrs. Mary Campbell, a well known resident of the Scotch settlement, aged about 82 years, is ill with grip and is so low that it is feared she can not recover. Her former pastor, Rev. J. N. Swan, of Toronto, came up yesterday and drove to the country to visit her.

A man, whose name will probably never be known, peeped into the window of a house in the West End on Sunday evening. The lady of the house saw the performance, and going to the kitchen, secured a kettle of hot water, determined to scald the miscreant, but when she came to the door he was gone.

Street car No. 32, which was overhauled by the Westinghouse electrician who was here a short time ago, is now provided with electric heaters instead of the stove. It is proving more successful than any of the heaters did last winter, but it is hardly likely that any more will be placed in the cars.

The many friends of John Porter, the young man who was so unfortunate as to lose an eye at Pittsburgh several weeks ago, will be glad to learn that he has so far recovered as to be able to return home yesterday afternoon. Despite his misfortune John looks cheerful as usual, and is determined to make the best of his bad luck.

The Floating Bethel is still attracting large crowds and much good is being done. He also says that the Free Methodists are bitterly opposing them but without effect. Mrs. Clayton and Miss Dauberspeck are conducting meetings each evening at Hookstown. Services are held in the boat every evening except Wednesday and at Chester every Thursday night.

The congregation of the Second Presbyterian church, East End, are said to be favorable to calling Reverend McCullough, a young graduate of the Western Theological seminary, who preached there last Sunday. Rev. J. N. Swan will preach in the West End chapel next Sunday evening and his remarks will touch upon the recent Mansfield convention. He will also fill the pulpit at the chapel for several Sundays.

Those who are in a position to know say that there will be a bad accident at the Lincoln avenue crossing on the Horn switch some of these days. The pony crew, they claim, make flying switches almost every day, dropping cars before they reach the crossing, despite the fact that an agreement was made to cease such work if counsel would not compel the placing of safety gates. More than one person has had a narrow escape.

The many tramps in town yesterday congregated at Walker's last night, and attempted to keep warm by the heat which came from the kilns. Last evening there seemed an exodus of wandering Willies, as they walked through the city after spending the day making the rounds of houses, where they secured something to eat. Almost every man carried his tin can, usually used in boiling coffee, and the majority would make a characteristic group of vagrants.

Perhaps the meanest man on earth lives in this city. Among some other tales related of him, is one in which his unfortunate wife was deeply interested. Having occasion to purchase a new dress, she paid 15 cents for some buttons, and when the general accounting was made the amount came to the surface. Then the mean man made his nature known by demanding why his wife should spend that money for buttons. Why not take those from her old dress, since buttons never wear out? Poor fellow.

FOR "GOOD OLD MUDDER."

A Newsboy Gets a Sweet Photograph Taken to Send to Her.

When Curtiss, the photographer, got down to his studio a few mornings ago, he found a diminutive, tattered and very dirty little boy waiting for him, with a bootblack's kit slung on his shoulder. With an inimitable rough drawl the boy said: "Say, Mr. Curtiss, I came to get me a mudder, wot lives in Cleveland. See?"

Mr. Curtiss said: "I don't take tin-types, my boy. Why don't you go to a tin-type gallery?"

"Aw, Mr. Curtiss, youse do only pitcher taker I knows. See, Mr. Curtiss," he wheedled, "here's de stuff I've been savin' for git er pitcher ter send fer me mudder. Youse kin have it all." And he opened his grimy, sweaty little paw, in which reposed a silver dime and a cent.

"All right," said Curtiss, "come in, and I'll take your picture. You needn't pay me with money. What can you do?"

"Say, Mr. Curtiss, I kin do anything. I'm a wise kid. Dey ain't no flies on me."

He was lifted into a chair, and his feet didn't come within a foot of the floor. He was trembling with excitement, and his teeth glistened in a line of white against his dirty face. After the shutter clicked and he was told it was "all over," he laughed and said: "Huh, dat ain't nuttin. I end do dat myself, Mr. Curtiss."

He was put to work cleaning the gloves on the chandeliers to pay for his pictures, and during the afternoon disappeared. About 6 o'clock he came back and said: "I had ter go after me 3 o'clocks. Here's a poopy I saved fer you, Mr. Curtiss." And he drew a rumpled dirty paper from under his coat.

When the pictures were finished and handed to him, he said: "Hully gee! Ain't dat outter sight? Won't de old lady be proud ov her Cholly boy wot she gits dis? Say, Mr. Curtiss, me mudder's a good old lady, and she's got six more kids ter wash fer, so I thought I'd skip."

One of the pictures was mailed to "de good old mudder" in Cleveland, and the boy had one for himself. He looked at it admiringly for a moment and then said: "Say! Won't dis kill de kids at de Junction dead when I show it to 'em? Aw, say! Photographed by Curtiss. Where's me chrysanthemum, Cholly?" and he strutted out.—Kansas City Star.

Switzerland a Modern Babel.

Switzerland, with its mixture of races and tongues, is a sort of modern Babel, a fact which causes much trouble in particular to the military authorities. At Wallenstadt, the other day, at the recruiting station, there was a guard composed of five men. The chief was a lieutenant who spoke German only, the second a sergeant who spoke Italian only, the third a corporal who could speak French and Spanish, the fourth a private who could speak French and German, and the fifth a private who could speak French and Italian. When the lieutenant had to transmit an order to the sergeant, he had to get the last named man to interpret for him. When he wanted to communicate with the corporal, he had to requisition the fourth man, and so on, great delay and confusion being thus occasioned.—London News.

Strong Cases Against Them.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The commission of Indian affairs has received from Indian Agent Ostudillo of the Mission school agency in Southern California a report of the murder of Mrs. Mary J. Platt, matron of the Pechanga school, who was killed on the night of Sept. 20. Two Indian suspects, Yates Pa and Francisco Waves, are now under arrest, and the government claims a strong case against them.

NATIONAL CAPITAL BRIEFS.

Congressman Swanson of Virginia has been married to Miss Elizabeth Dean Lyons of Washington.

The cash balance in the treasury yesterday was $155,453,357, net gold, $106,831,428.

The house military affairs committee has agreed to report favorably a bill extending indefinitely the time in which soldiers may apply to the war department for the removal of the charge of desertion.

Responding to a resolution adopted by the senate on the 6th inst., the president has sent to the body the correspondence bearing on the extradition of Antonio Maximo Mata against the Spanish government, which that government agreed in 1896 to pay.

Investigating the Gang Murder.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 12.—The grand jury has been hearing the evidence in the gang murder case. Mayor Eustis, who has the evidence at his fingers ends, related the story at length to the jurors. Afterward Sheriff Edge appeared with Adry Hayward, who repeated to the jury the confession as to his brother's schemes, which he had given to the officials. (Clark Blix is a good deal calmer, though he seems to have a morbid desire to repeat the story of the murder whenever he can get an officer to listen to him. A close watch is kept that there may be no attempt at suicide.)

A Negro Sentenced For Life.

RICHMOND, Ky., Dec. 12.—Jesse Hutton, a negro, has been sentenced in the circuit court to the penitentiary for life for assassinating Matt Todd at his home last February. Hutton accompanied William Todd, a brother to the house and shot Todd through a window while reading a paper. William Todd got a life sentence in September. The trial of William Taylor for assassinating Farmer David Doty, near here Friday night, is now in progress. If the jury fails to give a death sentence lynching is expected.

The United States Approves.

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.—The recent seizures of the nets of the United States fishermen in Canadian waters in Lake Erie by the government cruiser Petrela are not likely to lead to any international complications. It is said that the Washington government tacitly approves of what the Ottawa authorities are doing in the direction of protecting the fishermen.

A MODEL HOUSE

OF Business-Elegant Gifts-Other Important Matters.

Those who pass up and down Sixth street, in the neighborhood of the opera house, cannot fail to be attracted by the handsome display of holiday goods in the show window of Will Reed's superb drug store. The novelties there on exhibition are finding ready sale on all hands, as they are most suitable for holiday presents, and are finding favor on all sides. Patrons have discovered that at Reed's they can secure very handsome presents for mother, wife, sister, sweetheart or brother, at a very small outlay of cash, the consequence being that Reed is doing an immense trade in the holiday novelty line.

Ladies, if you desire to make an acceptable present to husband, brother, lover or father, or any of your gentlemen friends, make note that Reed has the finest of cigars, put up in the most tasty manner.

If you want anything in the line of perfumery or choice toilet articles, Reed can fill the bill to a nicety for you.

And now a few words as to the pharmacy. Reed makes a special feature of prescriptions, and his business in this department is very large and constantly increasing. He has had many years of experience, loves his profession, and takes especial pains to see that prescriptions are carefully compounded, and in strict accordance with the orders of physicians, using just such drugs as prescribed, and in no case substituting others. You will find it to your advantage, from every standpoint, to have your prescriptions filled by Reed, at the opera house drug store.

Carl Muench, a graduate of Heidelberg, Germany, will gladly serve all German patrons, as well as the public in general. Night calls, no matter at what hour, will receive prompt attention.

SUPERSTITIONS ABOUT TEA.

Quaint Ideas Concerning the Cup That Cheers, but Does Not Inebriate.

There are probably more quaint superstitions woven about tea than about anything else in the world. If you put cream in your cup before the sugar, it will "cross your love," so you must be very careful. If, while the tea is being made, the lid, removed to pour in the water, is forgotten to be replaced, it is the sure sign of the approaching arrival of a stranger.

If a tea stalk floats in the cup, it is called a "bean," and when this is seen unmarried women should stir their tea very quickly round and round and then hold the spoon upright in the center of the cup.

If the "bean" is attached to the spoon and clings to it, he will be sure to call very shortly, if not on that very evening, but if the stalk goes to the side of the cup, he will not come. In some places this is also said to denote the coming of a stranger, and if the stalk is soft the newcomer will be a lady; if tough, a gentleman.

If you want to know how many years will elapse before you are married, balance your spoon on the edge of your cup, first noting that it is perfectly dry, fill another spoon with tea, and holding it above the balanced spoon let the drops of tea gather to the tip of the spoon and gently fall into the bowl of the one below. Count the drops. Each one stands for a year.

If the cluster of small air bubbles formed by the sugar collect and remain in the center of the cup, it is a sign of fair weather. If they rush to the sides, there will be rain very shortly. —Philadelphia Press.

Equal to the Occasion.

Bob—What did the lecturer say when you threw those cabbages at him?

Dick—Oh, he said he had hoped the audience would be pleased, but he really hadn't expected they would entirely lose their heads. —Louisville Courier-Journal.

Annapolis was so called in honor of Queen Anne. The Catholics, who settled it, called it St. Mary's. It was renamed Arundelton, in honor of the Earl of Arundel, still later was christened Anne Arundel, and finally the present name was bestowed.
